

Mission Statement

By

John G. Giannios Jr.

Technology in the Entertainment and Media Industries

Megan Brown

MISSION STATEMENT PLACEMENT

My laminated mission statement is going to go where ever I go so I have a constant reminder of my mission and my goals. The first picture shows me at work while I work on at the same time

MISSION STATEMENT

My mission is to achieve my ultimate dream of Microsoft CEO with a GPA of 3.75 or higher with a website and development degree from Full Sail University. I will accomplish this mission achieving mini goals going through my educational path and to live each day with determination and diligence. My determination will push me to attend classes, lectures, assignments before due dates to prepare myself to be ahead of the game. I will also will engage in external activities to broaden my knowledge from the real world. My diligence will show that hard work both in my educational path and my job at any current time will not stop me from my mission. When I run into any obstacles I will create a way around them. With this new determination and diligence it will be the foundation to my ongoing mission to not only being the best in the website design and development but beginning to a new journey in my career as CEO of Microsoft with a 3.75 GPA or higher and to succeed in my industry.

John G. Giannios Jr.

My mission is to achieve my ultimate dream of Microsoft CEO with a GPA of 3.75 or higher with a website and development degree from Full Sail University. I will accomplish this mission achieving mini goals going through my educational path and to live each day with determination and diligence. My determination will push me to attend classes, lectures, assignments before due dates to prepare myself to be ahead of the game. I will also will engage in external activities to broaden my knowledge from the real world. My diligence will show that hard work both in my educational path and my job at any current time will not stop me from my mission. When I run into any obstacles I will create a way around them. With this new determination and diligence it will be the foundation to my ongoing mission to not only being the best in the website design and development but beginning to a new journey in my career as CEO of Microsoft with a 3.75 GPA or higher and to succeed in my industry.

Microsoft CEO